Terms and Conditions for the Provision of Information and Services by e-Services (Disclaimer)

Irrespective of the terms and conditions for the provision of banking services, which are expressed in a separate document, users of the e-Services (herein referred to “BCM Net e-Banking Service”, “BCM Mobile Banking Service”, “BCM eCorp Internet Banking Service”, “BCM eCorp Mobile Banking Service”, “I-Securities Trading Service”, “Mobile Securities Trading Service” and “BCM eEnquiry Service”) accept the following terms and conditions for the provision of information and other services by the e-Services:

1. Analyses, estimates, projections, opinions, comments and otherwise all information contained in e-Services are intended exclusively for private dissemination and as an auxiliary means for its users and should not be considered as a request for transactions or otherwise as an alternative means for the exercise of proper judgment by its users.
2. All information relating to legal provisions and contents of judicial nature were obtained from sources considered as reliable and of quality. However, Banco Comercial de Macau does not warrant the accuracy of such information or it's being the most updated version.
3. Information relating to securities does not constitute a recommendation or advice of purchase or sale, unless express indication to the contrary is shown, and may not whatsoever exempt the users from consulting the legal documents required and compulsory for the execution of any transaction.
4. Information of fiscal nature obtained from e-Services is intended for private use and as an auxiliary means of information only and does not exempt the users from resorting to specialists, lawyers and government departments in the resolution of any particular situation.
5. All the contents provided by duly identified external entities other than Banco Comercial de Macau, are of the exclusive responsibility of such entities. Banco Comercial de Macau seeks to select content providers of high levels of reliability and credibility but does not guarantee the accuracy of relative information or it's being the most updated.
6. All services provided by external entities other than Banco Comercial de Macau, notwithstanding the contact between the service providers and customers are facilitated by e-Services in any manner, are of the exclusive responsibility of such entities. Banco Comercial de Macau declines any liability for any direct or indirect losses or damages to human beings or objects that such services may cause.

7. e-Services and the materials, information, products and services provided through e-Services may only be used when it is permitted by the law of the places where the users are located. The information in this website is therefore not intended for use by persons who reside or temporarily reside in jurisdictions where there are restrictions on these kinds of materials, information and services.
8. The availability of browsing e-Service websites depends on the provision and stability of the internet service provided by the local Service Provider. Banco Comercial de Macau does not guarantee the service quality and declines any liability for issues (including but not limited to communication failure or traffic congestions encountered in the Internet) beyond its control.
9. All the information and in general the contents of e-Services site may be changed without prior notice, save for those expressly imposed by law.
10. Partial or total reproduction of the contents of e-Services site as well as the leasing or sale thereof without prior consent of its owners are prohibited.
